

Go Green!

Edinburgh World Heritage Map

Leave your car at home and explore Edinburgh on foot.

Discover the Edinburgh's World Heritage Site the green way. Walk along the paths and learn about Edinburgh's natural and historical heritage.

The Victorians created the Inverleith pond to attract wildlife and to offer a dramatic view over the city. 37

Newhaven is a Conservation Area retaining the architectural character of a Scottish fishing village.

Leith has been a port for many centuries and can be reached by walking along the Water of Leith.

The famous Craigeleith sandstone used to be quarried here, where now you can find a retail park.

Glencourse Reservoir is one of the reservoirs providing drinking water to Edinburgh.

You can find along the Porfobello Esplanade one of the last Turkish baths still in use in Scotland.

- Map legend
- Old Town Path
 - New Town Path
 - Dean Village and Stockbridge Path
 - Water of Leith
 - Canal
 - Public open space
 - Private open space
 - Loch
 - Green corridor
 - Allotments
 - ⊕ Play area
 - + Graveyard
 - i Tourist Information Centre
 - 📖 Library
 - 🏛️ Museum
 - 🚶 Shared path
 - Green landmark
 - Historical landmark

10 minutes - slow walk
5 minutes - fast walk

0 Km 0 Miles 0.5 Km 0.3 Miles

We want feedback!

Fill in this voucher, give it back to us and you'll receive a special prize!

The ruins of the 1300s St. Anthony's Chapel can be found on the northern side of Arthur's Seat. 3

Between the cherry tree lanes, the Meadows boast cricket squares and a croquet green. 39